

JOHN STREET, STRATFORD UPON AVON

Marson Rathbone Taylors brief was to expand the offices to create a new reception area with conference rooms and new partners / administrator offices complete with toilets, tea room and computer room. The design solution was contemporary facade in steel, glass and terracotta tiles which inset back and create a visual break between the listed building and the new development. Supported by the District Council conservation team the design is also backed by the Georgian Society and English Heritage.
